BLACKSMITH'S AND CARPENTER'S TOOLS.
For sale by H. W. CORBETT & CO.

Late Atlantic Intelligence.

The New York Tribune of October 28th says: From the base of the mountain range which forms the backbone of the continent comes the word that five hundred miles of the Union Pacific Railroad have been successfully constructed. Thirty-one miles more, now nearly finished, will carry the line to the summit, which is the highest elevation of the route, from which point the head-light of the locomotive will shine over toward the Pacific, perhaps before the snow flies. This accomplishment of half a thousand miles in distance and the completion of the first grand division of the enterprise—from the Missouri to the base of the Rocky Mountains—forms a fitting point from which to review the work accomplished, and note the importance of the great undertaking.

The following is a return of the cotton crop for 1867, taken by the Bureau of Statistics. The returns are from four hundred and eighty-four divisions, several divisions yet remaining to hear from, and show that 5,057,025 acres have been planted in cotton, and that the estimated yield is 1,568,357 bales of four hundred and fifty pounds each, equal to 1,764,401 bales of four hundred pounds each, the latter being the weight assumed in the census of 1860. The yield of 1860 was 3,656,086 bales of four hundred pounds each. It is estimated by the bureau that the returns yet to come will not materially alter the above figures.

A few days since the Cincinnati Enquirer published an editorial article declaring in favor of George Pendleton for President. In that article the Enquirer insisted that Pendleton was the choice of Kentucky. To this latter statement, the Louisville Courier interposes a decided negative. The Democracy of that Commonwealth, says the Courier, are by no means prepared, so many months in advance of the National Convention, to commit their delegation to the support of any particular individual. The Courier is of the opinion that General Grant will be the Republican nominee; and if so, it may become a necessity to nominate Sherman against him. The Courier would prefer Pendleton to Sherman; but it would infinitely prefer Sherman as the Copperhead nominee to a radical triumph with Grant.

A correspondent of the Fort Wayne Gazette gives some interesting recollections of the death and burial of "Mad" Anthony Wayne, who expired at Erie, Pennsylvania, in 1796, of an attack of malignant gout. His remains were buried there, but Col. Wayne, his son, employed Dr. Wallace to disinter and prepare them so as to be packed in the smallest possible space. By him the bones were separated, and, under his supervision, the flesh boiled off, then packed in a box and, lashed behind the sulky of Col. Wayne, were taken to the family burial place and there deposited, in Radnor, Delaware county, St. David's Episcopal Church. Here the Pennsylvania Society of Cincinnati erected a monument bearing this inscription: "Major General Anthony Wayne was born at Waynesboro, in Chester county, Pennsylvania, in 1745. After a life of honor and usefulness, he died in December, 1796, at Erie, Pennsylvania, then a military post on Lake Erie, Commander-in-Chief of the army of the United States."

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Press says: The chief topic of political gossip here now is a reported reconciliation of differences between Thurlow Weed, Horace Greeley and other New York politicians, for the purpose of securing the Republican nomination for Vice President to that State. It is conceded beyond doubt that General Grant will receive the nomination of the Republicans for President, and it is expected by the New York Republicans that they will be able to place either Senator Morgan or Governor Fenton on the ticket with him. In the meantime Greeley and his friends will undoubtedly insist on the nomination of Judge Chase, but, failing in that, will be obliged to content themselves with a compromise on either Morgan or Fenton for the Vice Presidency on the Grant ticket. This programme will be aided by the new paper of Charles A. Dana, among the stockholders of which are Senators Morgan and Conkling, Marshall O. Roberts, Mayor Opdyke and others, who are not at present inclined to favor Chase.

The Morning Post, of Oct. 18th, has the following special dispatch from Washington: Upon the retirement of Dr. Leiber from the office of Rebel Records, he wrote to Gen. Grant, congratulating him upon his successes, and saying that it was rarely that history had ever devolved upon any man so many civil and military responsibilities. He said that he felt that it was possible that a greater crisis was coming than that which ended at Appomattox Court-house, and he prayed he might be strong enough to accept the responsibility. Gen. Grant's reply is said to be the most radical he has written. In it he says he trusts he may have strength to answer any responsibility that may devolve upon him, no matter how solemn it may be. He will not hesitate to accept it if the country demands it.

A despatch dated St. Louis, October 28, says: The treaty made by the Indian Commissioners with the Kiowa and Camanche tribes, on the 21st inst., gives them about 6,000 square miles, or 3,500,000 acres of land, between the north fork of the Red river and Red river, beginning at the intersection of the 26th parallel with the 98th meridian, and embracing the southwestern corner of the present Indian Territory, with a fraction from Texas. The tribes are now estimated at 4,000, or about 800 lodges. This land will therefore give them not less than 800 acres to each man, woman and child. It is also provided that these tribes shall induce their brethren, the Camanches of Northern Texas, to come and live with them. If they succeed, the United States will enlarge their reservation by adding a quantity of land sufficient to give each person 320 acres, if the remaining Camanches can be induced to come in. This leaves a large section of country on the Texan frontier, and opens a way for civilizing a once powerful band. On this reservation, where several bands of the Camanches are already farming, the Penetachen and others, it is proposed to build an agency house, a warehouse, and buildings for teachers, millers, farmers, physicians, etc., and that these persons be furnished to them to live on the reservation and aid the Indians.

As several papers are trying to make something out of the reported political interview between General Grant and certain Southern editors, in which the General talked like a first-class conservative, it may be worth while to state a fact or two. The editor in question is Dr. Sam. Bird, of the Atlanta New Era. He came here to collect claims against the War Department. Some of them are found to be for work never done, others for work done but not authorized, and still others are excessive charges for work ordered and done. He was in the rebel army for four years, and the editorial in which he nominated Grant was written in this city some months ago by a correspondent of a New York paper. Bird then thought Grant would be caught by the Democrats. Finding out, since the summer session of Congress adjourned, that he did not train with that party, Bird is anxious to justify himself to his rebel friends here and at home in the position he has taken. Accordingly, he reported around town during Grant's absence, that he had been accorded a private interview, and had taken notes of Grant's remarks. Everybody knows that this adventurer had no such interview as he claims. The interview was very brief, and Bird did most of the talking. He seems to be somewhat alarmed at the stir he has created, and now denies that he ever made such report of conversation as has been credited to him.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT DISPATCHES.—The San Francisco Chronicle publishes the following dispatches, "exclusively" to that paper:

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Seward has offered an asylum to the Sultan.

The Pope and Garibaldi, to whom he has already offered asylums, will, after embracing and exchanging mutual compliments at Mr. Seward's, receive company for a few days at Barnum's Museum, along with Tom Thumb and the Artificial Gorilla. Visitors are expected to make their appearance with quarters in their hands.

Seward intends offering an asylum to the Czar of Russia, the Khan of Tartary, the Great Mogul, the Llama of Thibet, and the ex-Emperor of Heligoland; Phelim O'Shaughnessy, the Irish Patriot; Sandie McGrub, the Scotch Seer; and J. Smith, the celebrated Ancient English Tailor.

Thad. Stevens proposes a fresh issue of greenbacks to erect new asylums, with the view of still farther extending the hospitalities of the country.

The latest rumor is that it is contemplated to provide Seward himself with an asylum in the Poughkeepsie Retreat for Imbeciles, or the Milwaukie Asylum for Idiots.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEW OF THE ELECTION.—The following, from the Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier, is interesting as being a Southern version of the President's views in regard to the late election:

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Oct. 12, 1867.

The President and his Cabinet including General Grant, fully understand and appreciate the meaning of the late elections. They view the result as the want of great conservative ... of the country, which demand peace, stability and justice under a Constitutional Union. The elections were gained by ... not by Democrats as a distinctive party. These elections are only a prelude to a general uprising of Conservative young men throughout the North and West, the result of which we shall see in the November elections, and more ... still in the election for Congress and for the President in Nov... of next year.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 22, 1867.

California Politics.—There is a tremendous rush among the "faithful" in California for official positions. The Sacramento Bee says: "The Democratic politicians are very busy senatorially and otherwise. There is an exodus of them from all quarters to San Francisco. The copperheads and secessionists must have a man after their own heart to represent them, or they will have none; and the War Democrats insist that it would not only be disgraceful but ruinous to elect one who sympathized with treason, and who would have been a traitor had he dared. The Governor has many appointments to make, some of them lucrative and the Legislature has a few places within its gift; but for every place that either has to bestow, there are fifty applicants. Men who are themselves candidates tell us that they never, in the ancient Democratic, in the Know Nothing, or Republican times, saw such a rush for office as there is now. Some who entered the "filthy pool," thinking there would not be much of a [illegible], would gladly back out from the pressure of the crowd, but that their names are up and they may as well see the thing out. Haight is being torn to pieces, and yet his tormentors have only begun to practice on him. We shall not be surprised if the office seekers bore him to death as they did Harrison and Taylor, and as they would have [illegible] Lincoln but for his interminable fund of fun. We pity poor Haight!"

Indiana.—Some of the Democratic papers have been bragging that their party carried Indiana in the October election. Only county elections were held, and the truth is there are large Republican gains. A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Lafayette, Oct. 17th, says that the Republican gains in almost every part of the State are heavy. The Republican majority in the whole State, says this writer, "is between 22,000 and 27,610, larger by nearly 3,000 than our heavy majority in 1864, and by nearly 10,000 than our majority in 1866. The Republicans elected their [illegible] in two thirds of the counties, and ten of the eleven Congressional districts gave Republican majorities, the Second and Fourth being [illegible]. The same [illegible] says that Gen. Grant will get the vote of Indiana in the National [illegible] against all opponents. Major General Lew. Wallace will probably be the Republican [illegible] for Governor. The State Convention will be held on the 22d of February.

We have received the first number of the second [illegible] of the Oregon Physo-Medical Journal, [illegible] at Salem by Dr. J. C. Shelton. The [illegible] is mainly of articles written by the [illegible], which, though we have not time to [illegible], (as the editor of a daily paper must forego such [illegible] and trust to luck and doctors for [illegible]), we have no doubt will prove of practical [illegible] to the many. The Journal is [illegible] at two dollars a year. Each number [illegible] about 50 pages, making a handsomely printed [illegible].

The net profits from manufactures alone in the United States for the year ending June 30, 1860, [illegible] $854,256,584. The United States now pays about $150,000,000 annually for interest on the [illegible]. According the profits of manufactures to be as great now as in 1860 (and they are [illegible] greater)—the manufacturers [illegible], without touching their capital stock, pay the [illegible] of the public debt, and have 82½ per cent. of their net gains left to add to the next [illegible].

Ex-President Pierce, a political relic of the [illegible], was recently invited by the [illegible] Democrats of Concord (N. H.), who [illegible] him to make a speech. He was in [illegible], and the [illegible] 1861, [illegible] that for every man [illegible] to invade the South, the Democrats would [illegible] from going, and the war [illegible] be waged on Northern instead of Southern soil.

[illegible].—A most noticeable instance of [illegible] the advantages [illegible] telegraphy, may be found in the fact that the New York Tribune [illegible] of Garibaldi's [illegible] was ever known to a single person [illegible] of all England. The fact was transmitted through England by the Tribune's special [illegible], in cypher, so that it was not even known to the telegraphic operators themselves.

New Papers.—We have received the first [illegible] of a new paper published at Jacksonville, [illegible]. It is Democratic in politics, and is [illegible] the control of the County Committee of that party.

The [illegible] of Salem has begun to issue a [illegible], and is [illegible] the size of the Daily Record.

STATE ITEMS.

The [illegible] was witnessed at Jacksonville. [illegible] very good [illegible].

[illegible] of Jacksonville is about to remove to [illegible] he will for the future [illegible].

The [illegible] of Grant county being protected by the [illegible] out of grain will be raised next year.

The [illegible] at Huntington [illegible]. He will distribute a large [illegible] and then return [illegible].

The [illegible] of the Herald has been on a cabbage hunt, and has found an [illegible]. [illegible] the style of the latter paper for some time, the [illegible] found it under his hat, says the Sentinel.

The [illegible] says: The large turbine water [illegible] mill, after its long voyage, got here [illegible], and the next day the lower part was [illegible] position in the mill, where it will soon have heavy duty to perform.

The C[illegible] of Linn county, at their last [illegible] a fence to be built around the public [illegible]. Drinks & Arnold the contract was [illegible] posts four cable chains will be [illegible].

Says the [illegible]: The Oregonian has been lately [illegible] of articles concerning the [illegible]. They prove conclusively [illegible] the time of [illegible]. The argument is elaborate, [illegible] and has very [illegible] the Herald.

The [illegible] favors a branch of the Central Pacific [illegible] the main road with the head of steamboat [illegible] on the Columbia, and another road that [illegible] at Old's Ferry, where the navigation com[illegible]. With navigation on the Columbia, about 250 or [illegible] would make this connection, and for [illegible].

The [illegible] of last week has the following: The Grand Jury this week [illegible] a true bill against "Arch" Christ[illegible] bonds in the sum of $400 to appear and [illegible] the charge of [illegible] of his duty. Mr. Christman "appeared," but was probably dismayed at the awful charges set forth in the legal par[illegible] of the indictment, and [illegible] as soon as convenient. He had been arrested on Thursday, and seeing Judge Prim [illegible] jury he probably thought the precedent a good one and discharged himself immediately. "Arch" [illegible] anxious friends in official "polish" here, who will [illegible] any information as to his whereabouts [illegible] will probably have to shell out.

The [illegible] in a Washington dispatch of Oct. 15th: [illegible] Wilson, of the General Land Office, has received returns from the Surveyor General at Eugene City, [illegible] the completion of the survey of [illegible] near the Columbia river, in Wasco and [illegible] in that State, covering an area of over three [illegible] and forty-seven thousand six hundred acres. These lands are generally high and gently rolling [illegible], with a soil of first and second rate, well adapted for [illegible] purposes. The tract is watered by John Day's river and several tributaries of the Columbia river. [illegible] are tracts of timber [illegible] these streams, consisting [illegible] of cottonwood or juniper. Settlers are found [illegible] portion of the surveyed premises.

FROM THE NORTH.

V[illegible], Nov. 20.—The United States steamer Saginaw [illegible] to-day for San Francisco. Her Majesty's ship Scout for [illegible] Dixon for Puget Sound with Gen. [illegible] on board.

The [illegible] 12 days from Portland, arrived this morning.

The weather during the last ten days has been very [illegible], the [illegible] extreme caution in [illegible] these waters.

Spirit of the State Press.

The Republican papers of the State are, with hardly an exception, pronouncing for Gen. Grant for the Presidency. The Sentinel has for some time been urging his name. The Record has pronounced for him. The State Journal favors his nomination. The Albany Journal heartily approves of the proposition to make him the leader of the Republican hosts next year. The Unionist comes out strongly in the same way. We append a single paragraph from each of the two last named papers. Says the Journal:

Next fall we shall go into the field with Gen. Grant as our candidate, with national faith and honor inscribed upon our banners; and those who have no heritage in our fields of honor and fame nor thrill with the stories of our heroes, will go howling to their conventicles of treason, to vainly plot for the restoration of the barbarisms of a past age. So, to the patriot we can truly assure that next year the usual result will come, in a crushing victory for the cause of right, led on by the heroic Grant.

Under the caption,—"The Next President," the Unionist has the following:

Every indication points to Gen. Grant as the popular candidate for the Presidency. The Republican press are almost unanimous in suggesting his nomination, and letters to that effect come from all quarters of the country to the National Committee; in fact, it cannot be doubted that the loyal sentiment of the people throughout the nation is overwhelmingly in his favor. It seems to be the common consent that the heroic soldier who turned the disastrous tide of battle and led our armies thence to victory and conquest, who stands before the world as the most lustrous of surviving warriors, should be invested with the highest civil honors of a great nation. This seems the more imperative since it has been the national precedent in relation to other great captains who have borne our flag gloriously along the red ecliptic of war. Lustrous as are their names, dear as they are to the hearts of the people, though priceless be the inheritance of their fame, none of them did more for the cause of human freedom and the perpetuity of the American republic, than has that silent and thoughtful man who never lost a battle, and whose resolutions of conquest seemed like the ordination of destiny itself.

A discussion is going on in the Ensign, pro and con, relative to the division of Douglas county. In this matter the people of the county seem to take a good deal of interest, and probably the question will become a "local issue" in the ensuing elections.

The Guard is making a terrible pother about the Mulkey-Rinehart case. It is distressed beyond measure because Confederates and rebels cannot recover damages from Union men for defending the country against the constitutional efforts of President Davis and his followers to destroy it. The Record thus addresses itself to the Guard on this subject, suggesting for its consideration some very practical facts:

The Guard complains that Major Rinehart was not punished for the arrest of Mulkey, but released on the ground that he was a military officer obeying superior orders. It may find some relief in knowing that the bushwhackers of the South got off on the same plea. Within two years, we have attended trials in West Virginia, where the most despicable of these guerrillas have been proved guilty of enormous crimes, but they wound up the defense by bringing in some ex-rebel officer to swear they were regularly enlisted Confederate soldiers, and acting under orders. Don't the Guard feel better now?

The Chronicle publishes on its outside an article about rebel General Forrest, of Fort Pillow memory, in which that notorious chieftain is said to have failed to clear himself of the responsibility of that horrible massacre. The article was copied from the St. Louis Democrat. But after the outside of the Chronicle was printed off, the editor read the article, and feeling that gross injustice had been done to that super-excellent Democrat, the "General," apologized for the publication of the article, expressed regrets, etc., and virtually promised not to be guilty of doing a like wrong to any distinguished Democrat again. If the article in question had gone out to the Chronicle's readers without this explanation, that paper would have lost at least half of its one hundred and fifty subscribers. Good Democrats will not patiently hear prominent members of their party disparaged in this manner.

The Democrat, like all the organs of its party, is deeply versed in financial matters. It says that in 1860 the entire value of property in the United States was about sixteen thousand millions, and that Congress has squandered since 1861 $14,500,000,000! According to this statement there is now only about one-tenth as much property in the country as there was when the rebellion began. It is almost needless to add, after this, that the Democrat in the plenitude and impenetrability of its dense ignorance, says that United States bonds will be subjected to taxation.

The Courier, following in the wake of the Herald, darkly intimates that if the electoral vote of the Southern States is counted next year, the Democracy will fight. Perhaps "General J. W. Jasper Johnson" will in that event assume the responsibility of declaring martial law and calling out the militia again. These "military" characters sometimes play highly fantastic tricks. Witness what the "General" aforesaid did on a certain occasion in Washington Territory. Also the action of McClellan in arresting the Legislature of Maryland.

The style of the Columbia Press seems to be a sort of cross between Tupper's Proverbial Philosophy and the La Crosse Democrat. We give a specimen:

There is big fight between some of the stripes and some of the stars.
Ten of those stars ought to be blotted out.
Cover them with black.
Put a negroes head in their places.
Where is the stripe for Georgia?
There it is, but it's a lie. There is no such State as Georgia, or Virginia, or South Carolina.
They were wiped out of existence.
They no longer adorn the record of our glory.
Those stars no longer twinkle in our political firmament.
They have been driven out of their orbit.
Those stars used to mean something.
They do now but how changed their meaning.
They shed a pale and sickly light—barely glimmering—dying.
It is liberty that dies.

The author of this jeremiad would no doubt feel better had the Southern Confederacy succeeded and "liberty" based on slavery triumphed in the maintenance of the political and social system so philosophically explained and defended by "Vice President" Stephens.

AN IMPORTANT TRIAL.—The circuit court has just concluded the trial of an important case—Smith & Davis vs California State Telegraph Co—involving the law as to the liabilities of telegraph companies in the transmission of messages. Messrs Smith & Davis sent a telegram ordering 8 barrels of oil the message was incorrectly transmitted and made to read as delivered 80 barrels the consequence was that they lost by having the surplus on hand and being compelled to sell it at a decline in price before so large an amount could be disposed of, and brought suit to recover the difference between the price paid and the price received for the oil. The following are the instructions by Judge Stuart to the jury

The jury in this case, as in other civil actions will be required to determine all questions of fact submitted to them and in the settlement of the issues of fact to apply the law as it shall be expounded by the Court and from both fact and law pronounce a general conclusion either for the plaintiffs or for the defendant

Telegraph companies are neither common carriers nor ordinary bailees, nor simply agents in the strict sense of those terms. In their business there are many points of resemblance to each of those parties Though their occupation has become vast it is yet comparatively new and questions relating to their rights and liabilities have been but little before the Courts.

The principles, however by which such questions are to be tried, are not new—the practical difficulty in each case is to apply the old principles to the new subject

I think as before intimated that telegraph companies should not in the strictest sense and in all respects be regarded as common carriers yet their business is so likened to that of common carriers that public policy, if not the true interests of the companies themselves requires that their rights and liabilities be determined by principles analogous to those which have controlled common carriers. Though not insurers in every case and liable for every loss or mistake or delay except those occasioned by the act of God or the public enemies, yet I hold the law to be, and instruct the jury that, as a general rule, in the absence of legislative provision or express stipulation telegraph companies are bound to use in their ordinary business extraordinary care and diligence to exercise what is called the [illegible] that they are liable for the slightest [illegible] and if a mistake is made in the transmission of a message the burden is on the company to prove that it originated in some supervening influences unknown to the operator, and beyond his immediate power of control, and not in some carelessness, unskillfulness or oversight of the operator himself As a general rule I hold that where different companies by arrangements between themselves are connected in business so as to convey through messages between places beyond their respective lines, and in pursuance of such arrangements each receives messages to be sent beyond its own lines and takes pay for the whole, such a receipt of a message and the pay for transmission would be held to amount to an undertaking to convey the message to its destination and would make the company originally receiving the message liable for mistake or delay wherever the same may have occurred

But notwithstanding these general rules, telegraph companies may modify and restrict their liability by special agreement. They may be exempted by special agreement from responsibility for any errors in dispatches not caused by their own negligence They may also by express agreement shield themselves from any mistakes occurring beyond their own lines They may decline to be insurers except upon certain terms and conditions to be complied with by the parties employing them

In all these cases of special contract the terms and conditions of exemption from general liability must be clearly understood by the party employing the company, and his assent thereto obtained or such facts shown as warrant the conclusion of knowledge and an implied assent

The terms and conditions of the special contract must also be reasonable, and cannot be allowed to [illegible] as to excuse negligence or misconduct in the [illegible]

In applying these rules to this case, the jury will determine from the evidence whether or not the defendant made with the plaintiffs a special contract concerning the [illegible]

If it sufficiently appears that the plaintiffs sent this message with a knowledge of a uniform custom of the company to require an assent to the terms set out in the blank to which this dispatch is appended, and silently acquiesced in the act of the operator in appending it to the blank and making the printed form and the written dispatch one instrument, they must be held to have assented to and be bound by the terms prescribed in the blank, and the rights of the parties must be measured by the contract thus formed

If the special contract is proven, it will be necessary to consider the conditions. The condition that the defendant will not be liable for any mistake occurring beyond its own lines is a part of the contract and operates for and against both parties alike, unless it was waived The defendant, without asking the express assent of the plaintiffs to such a condition, might waive it The fact of agreeing to send dispatches to different parts of the United States and receiving this dispatch to be sent to New York at any rate without notice as to the point where its line terminated, with the circumstance of receiving the full price for transmitting the message to New York and there the connection with the supposed assent of the plaintiffs to the terms expressed in the blank, may be considered by the jury, and it is for them to say, considering all the circumstances detailed in evidence, whether or not the defendant waived the condition of exemption from liability for mistakes occurring beyond its own lines. If the jury shall conclude this condition waived, the effects of the mistake must be had the same as if it occurred The claim, however to be exempt from liability for mistakes beyond its own lines, cannot avail the defendant anything unless it shows to the jury that the mistake, if any, did not occur on its own lines The burden is on the defendant to prove where its lines terminated, and that the mistake was not made on its own lines If the defendant has not done this and it does not appear affirmatively from the evidence in the case, that the mistake was made somewhere beyond the defendant's lines the presumption is against the defendant. The operators employed by the defendant and the contents of its own offices must be supposed to be within the reach or control of the defendant, and it could have been shown that this mistake did not occur on the defendant's lines and no evidence containing the condition of this message at any other office on the defendant's lines, than the Portland office where it was received having been offered, the jury are at liberty to presume that if the defendant had introduced this evidence it would have operated against the defendant.

Another condition in this printed form on the blank to which this dispatch is appended, requires your attention. The company say that "In case of delay neglect or mistake on its own lines, or by its own employees" the company will be responsible only to the amount paid for sending the message, unless the message be repeated back, etc. This, the jury will observe, is a direct stipulation against the consequences of negligence in the employees of the company In general, public policy would forbid any such a stipulation, and in telegraphy, as in other employments, such a condition, if intended to apply to every case, and to the whole scope of the company's business, would be treated as void, but it will be observed that the application of this condition is provided for only in cases of a single transmission that a more extended liability is admitted in cases where the message is repeated back—considering the peculiar character of the business of telegraphy, that there may be errors committed by the most careful operators, that negligence may sometimes happen at some distant station where the greatest diligence has been provided for, and that all the mischiefs of a mistake in a message may be accomplished in a few minutes after it is sent. Its deposition, and is delivered, it is reasonable and lawful for the company to adopt and to require those who send messages, to submit to some fair and convenient mode of speedily rectifying errors, and securing accuracy in the messages transmitted before they are delivered at the place of their destination

I leave it to the jury to determine from all the evidence laid before them relative to the business of telegraphing, whether this provision for having messages repeated, is a fair and convenient mode of securing accuracy in messages transmitted, and whether the requirement that the company for actual losses on account of mistakes shall be liable only when the message is repeated and the extra tariff paid, is or is not a reasonable requirement, whether it is adopted in good faith and from the necessity of the business, or as a mere expedient to defeat the company or to escape from just liability If the jury believe from the evidence, that it is a fair and reasonable requirement, and that the plaintiffs assented to it expressly or by implication as I before explained then the plaintiffs cannot recover anything beyond the money paid for a single transmission since it is not claimed that the message was repeated back

If, however the jury should find from the evidence that the requirement in question was unnecessary and unreasonable it should be treated as a void condition—of no effect whatever and be entirely disregarded

As to the measure of damages, if the defendant is liable for any sum beyond the money paid for the single transmission of the message it is liable for all the actual loss directly occasioned by the mistake and proven by the evidence, and if the jury award damages they will be justified in estimating as such damages the difference between the value of the goods on their arrival at the city of Portland and the costs and expenses of laying them down at Portland, according to the evidence on that point

The jury taking these matters of law into consideration with all the evidence in the case will say by their verdict whether the plaintiffs are entitled to recover or not and if entitled to recover whether the amount shall be confined to the price paid for sending the dispatch or whether it shall be for the whole loss which the plaintiffs have proved

The jury after being out a short time returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $12 84, the price paid for the transmission of the dispatch

HOW IT WAS DONE.—The news from Alaska published by the Portland dailies, on the morning of the 14th came here from San Francisco The papers of the latter city received it from New York Its receipt from that direction created something of a sensation at least in the offices of the Alta and the Bulletin both of which papers had sent correspondents to Alaska by the John L. Stephens. It all came about in this way The New York Herald also sent a correspondent who it seems is one of the get up-and-get kind of men On the return trip of the Stephens she touched at a point on Vancouver Island, when the Herald correspondent slipped off and thence procured private conveyance to Victoria. Here he despatched the telegram to the Herald paying as for a private dispatch The next morning it appeared in the New York Herald from which it was copied and sent to Chicago and thence by the agent of the California Associated press, to San Francisco Thus the two leading dailies of that city after having gone to the expense of sending correspondents to Alaska to get the first news of the transfer of the territory were compelled to copy from the New York Herald and to pay for its transmission also, the continent Meanwhile the two correspondents were taking their ease on board the Stephens and, doubtless, chuckling within themselves at having the latest news from Alaska safely locked up in their portfolios They will probably open their optics when they arrive at San Francisco and find that all their news is old, stale and unprofitable."

UNITARIAN MINISTER COMING.—A telegram was received in this city yesterday from Boston, stating that Rev P. J. [illegible] would start from New York yesterday, en route for Portland to take the pastoral charge of the First Unitarian Church of this city The Rev gentleman is late of St. Louis, Missouri, and comes here in response to a call from the Portland congregation A neat and commodious church building has been erected this season, on the corner of Seventh and Morrison streets, but which is not entirely completed, and ready for occupancy, we are not informed.

ONLY A SHORT TIME TO WAIT.—We have heard a number of persons expressing regrets that they did not witness the meteoric display which occurred during the night of the 13th inst The gentleman who kindly in the pen writing without charge for the clerk of the weather, had given due notice that an extraordinary show would be given during the night of the 13th but the managers had so [illegible] neglected to make arrangements for a clear night and the consequence was that nearly all over the Northern Pacific coast the exhibition was a failure—the people couldn't see it In California, it was different Our big sister had things all her own way—a clear night and a front seat The people of Sacramento had a big thing on the show Dr Harkness who saw it, furnishes a fine description of it and then adds The reappearance last night of these old acquaintances goes far to establish the theory that they return to us at regular periods of 34 years Their next appearance if my calculations are correct, will occur as in 1833 on a moonless night when those who are living in the year 1901 will witness one of the most sublime spectacles that the eye of mortal ever beheld So it will be seen that the meteor gazers will only have to hang on to this sublunary sphere the brief period of thirty four years in order to be gratified with the sight of a little the best spectacular show ever got up on this side of the river Jordan

PRESENTATION.—An interesting ceremony occurred last evening at the house of Protection Engine Co No 4—the presentation by the members of the company of an elegant silver trumpet to J W Sutton, the Foreman of the Co The presentation was made by Mr C P Ferry in behalf of the Co in a brief happy speech to which Mr Sutton responded and then short speeches were made by Messrs. A B Hallock of No 2, and R Hendrie President of No 4 After the presentation and talks were ended the boys of No 4 with numerous guests indulged in a general good time which was continued till a late hour These little occasions seem to be productive of a very good state of feeling among the firemen and no harm would be done if they were indulged in somewhat oftener

WILLAMETTE BUSINESS DIRECTORY.—Messrs R. M Waite and Henry Denlinger of Salem advertise that they will publish about the 1st of January a business directory containing the names of residents of Salem Albany, Corvallis and Eugene City with their several charters and general statistical information concerning each town They say "The improvements of the past year in each place will be carefully noted and as far as possible the amount expended in public and private improvements ascertained No labor will be spared to make it valuable for reference The book will contain about 200 pages Such a work cannot fail to be of advantage to the towns for which it is intended Why not include all the towns of the State?

MORE CONVICTS.—Sheriff A C Craig of Union county arrived by the steamer Hunt last evening en route for Salem with three convicts for the State Penitentiary One of them Isaac Tubbs is an escaped convict and will be returned to serve out his unexpired term The others were convicted at the late term of the Circuit Court for Union county held last week at LaGrande Thomas Martin convicted of murder in the second degree is sentenced for life and Ed Marshall for horse stealing, goes for seven years

THE ROADS OUT OF PORTLAND.—A few days ago we mentioned the fact that the road leading from this city to Hillsboro is in a horrible condition for a portion of the distance Yesterday, a gentleman who came in from Hillsboro was remarking to us that having been over many of the roads in the Willamette valley this season he had come here to find that Portland's best road into the country, is the worst road he had found anywhere This speaks a volume of compliments to the metropolis of Oregon

THE FESTIVAL.—The festival at Oro Fino Hall Wednesday evening, in aid of the M. E. Church building resulted very successfully as to the nett receipts After paying all expenses chargeable to the fair it is thought, the sum of $600, or possibly more will be realized This sum, considering the brief time occupied in getting up the festival is considerable and speaks well for the liberality of the public It will go far toward finishing the [illegible] story, which was the object of the entertainment.

AT HIS "TRICKS" AGAIN.—Martin the Wizard has come again and will spread his "tricks" at Oro Fino Hall, to night. If we only knew how Martin does all those wonderful things, we'd tell the people all about it and not leave them to be deceived right before their own "face and eyes"; but we don't know a thing about it, and so they will have to go and see for themselves All we can say is that Martin gives a first rate show and that nobody goes away dissatisfied

TAKING THE BENEFIT OF THE BANKRUPT LAW.—It may be not generally known that those intending to take the benefit of the bankrupt law of Congress, on the present terms, must do so within one year from the time the law went into effect, the 1st of June, 1867 If the petition in bankruptcy be not presented before the 1st day of June, 1868, none but those whose assets amount to 50 per cent or more of their liabilities, can avail themselves of the law

FELL OFF A WHARF.—Since the P T Co moved to the south side of their wharf the passage way to the O S N Co's wharf is a narrow one, between Johnson's packing cellar and the P T Co.'s buildings. A man, whose name we were unable to learn in attempting to walk the passage in the dark, Wednesday night stepped off the plank and landed in the edge of the river about ten feet below He was badly alarmed but not seriously hurt.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The Recorder had no new cases before him yesterday The case of Indian Jim charged with selling liquor to Indians, had been tried before, but judgment reserved Yesterday Jim was discharged The case of Sung Lee, charged with larceny will not be prosecuted further before the Recorder, the Prosecuting Attorney having taken it directly before the grand jury

U S DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—This court resumed its sitting yesterday The only case tried was that of J Seller et al vs Green C Davidson; action to recover debt no answer filed, judgment rendered for plaintiffs, but amount reserved for determination of a question as to interest.

THE COMMODORE PERRY.—Negotiations have been some days pending between the owners of the Commodore Perry and Messrs Abbott & Ritchey lumbermen at St. Helens, for the sale of the steamer to the latter gentlemen Yesterday, however the Perry was at Vaughn's wharf in this city, and a couple of gentlemen (late from Idaho as we are told) were examining her with a view to purchase.

BARMAN'S new Fall and Winter styles of Clothing have just arrived by the Montana, and will be opened to-day. All who have been waiting for the latest and best styles can get them by calling at Barman's corner of Front and Madison

WHERE TO GET BAGS.—If you want grain bags or flour sacks burlaps, chicken gunnies paper sacks or anything of that kind, go to Cook's Pioneer Machine Sewing Factory and Sail Loft. If you want any kind of heavy sewing done, such as ceilings, awnings, tents, wagon-covers, etc, you will find Cook's just the place you are looking for

NOTICE.—The San Francisco Auction Store, No 91 First Street, will be closed for two days for the purpose of taking account of stock Ladies and gentlemen will please call on us as usual after the expiration of that time M FRANKLIN & BRO

Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

Those who desire FIRST CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE, the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate and from turning it black which is a common occurrence One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time particularly where tobacco is used for smoking His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface His office is the only place where such work can be had The improvement is his own invention for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent He has been making this style of work for the last two-and-a-half years and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street This work has given satisfaction in every case

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.
THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer, but while some extol it as a liniment they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally while others use it internally with great success but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in those far off places by its merits

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES,
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES,
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of full habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produces effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Abraham Lincoln

Hon. Isaac Arnold, who represented the Chicago district in Congress during a portion of Abraham Lincoln's Presidential administration, and whose personal relations with the President were of the most confidential character, delivered a lecture recently in Beecher's church, Brooklyn, on the subject of the "Life and Habits of Abraham Lincoln." There have been half a dozen books published already on the subject, but in a synoptical report of the lecture printed in the New York Tribune, of the 23d, we find several facts narrated which had not been before generally known. We select the following:

"In 1840 Lincoln and Douglas were stumping Illinois, and in the course of the canvass Mr. Douglas charged that the Whigs were in favor of negro suffrage. Mr. Lincoln replied that such a charge came with a bad grace from a man whose candidate for the Presidency—Mr. Van Buren—was in favor of the very same thing, quoting in proof of his assertion from Holland's Life of Van Buren. Douglas retorted fiercely that it was false, and that Holland was a Whig libeler. Mr. Lincoln got a friend to address a note to Mr. Van Buren, requesting information on the point. Mr. Van Buren replied that it was true. Lincoln again repeated the charge in the presence of Douglas, and Douglas again reiterated the assertion of its falsity, when Mr. Lincoln read Van Buren's note. Lincoln never made a statement which he did not know to be true. In 1858 Douglas [illegible] home to seek re-election, and [illegible] by his party for the Senate. Douglas was [illegible] the most accomplished debaters in the [illegible]. He had met Davis, Cass, Benton, and [illegible], Chase, Sumner and Seward, and had [illegible] been [illegible]. His style was [illegible] and [illegible]. Lincoln was [illegible]; he was ever candid, cool, [illegible] and it was wonderful how [illegible] of his life, [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] made [illegible] Lincoln, [illegible] doubtless [illegible]. In this [illegible] the people [illegible] putting things, [illegible] than any [illegible] in state [illegible] carriages and [illegible] music [illegible] that while [illegible] if a man's property is stolen he may take it wherever he finds it, [illegible]

The Art of Balancing.—The feats of skill [illegible] circus, which in our boyhood excited our [illegible] and caused us to regard the [illegible] of a [illegible] order, in after years may be [illegible] subjects of study to the think[illegible]. One of the "artists" gives a [illegible] a twist by the hand, throws it whirling into the air, catches it on the end of a sharpened stick on his chin and balances it; then [illegible] the [illegible] until he [illegible] hands. Another climbs a pole [illegible] body horizontally, carrying the pole and performer [illegible] keeping the equilibrium of both. [illegible] walks upon a tightened rope or wire, controlling his perpendicular and governing his [illegible] by [illegible] of a long pole [illegible] himself on his narrow base by what is [illegible] the [illegible]. The "flying trapeze" is [illegible] the [illegible] of the art of balancing. The [illegible] requires some judgment, a quick [illegible] but mostly practice.

[illegible] Think for a moment what practice [illegible] is required [illegible] top-heavy [illegible] so high—[illegible] from the base and that so small, [illegible] one base, [illegible] and more than that, it has to [illegible] to another. The slightest [illegible] the whole structure [illegible] line of gravity, passing beyond the [illegible] the case of the infant just beginning [illegible] of the [illegible] practice to which [illegible] of those who astonish the [illegible] attitudes.

[illegible] all our knowledge of mechanical contrivances [illegible] producing [illegible]. The walking doll is a very clumsy imitation, or simulated [illegible] walking, so [illegible] When machinery [illegible] can be made to imitate, [illegible] movements of the animal [illegible] a new door opened to [illegible] stores, but it is doubtful if we shall [illegible] such a stage of mechanical perfection.

A Rebel Outrage.—A very remarkable case [illegible] to light, owing to the [illegible] of General Canby by the removal of [illegible] Sickles from command. A North Carolina [illegible] therefrom, to abandon his home [illegible] in the war, A [illegible] in the ranks of the Union army, with which he united, and in which he did [illegible] until the surrender of Lee and Johnston, and his own honorable discharge [illegible] back home under the [illegible] had won for him the [illegible] protection. He could not imagine that the [illegible] for which he had fought would [illegible] him to be arraigned and punished by State [illegible] his services. Yet read his [illegible] by Gen. Sickles in his speech the [illegible] at Philadelphia:

In Carswell county, N. C., during the war, a loyal [illegible] while [illegible] the enemy's [illegible] to earn, where he afterwards did good service, took [illegible] assistance on the march. When he returned [illegible] after the war was [illegible] posed to be over, he was arrested, tried on the charge of [illegible] and sentenced to be hung and to pay the [illegible].

While he was awaiting trial, and pending the [illegible] of the [illegible] the prisoner was kept [illegible] to an iron cage and held there for a year, without a blanket even in winter. Information of his case having [illegible] the military authorities, the case was under [illegible] investigation when the Governor of North Carolina, in the exercise of the [illegible] given to him by the military commander, [illegible] the man. The costs not having been paid, on [illegible] of the poverty of the poor fellow, he was confined for some time afterward in the [illegible] until released by military authority. [illegible] the population of [illegible] must have been the [illegible] loyal refugees, if the Government had not [illegible] their military protection.

[illegible] Sickles had the sheriff and others involved in this atrocious act of incarceration arrested and [illegible] to trial; but he having been removed from his command, the carrying out of this [illegible] will devolve upon his successor. We have no doubt that General Canby will investigate the matter impartially, and develope facts almost too startling and horrible for belief, if all we have heard be [illegible] Washington Chronicle.

A [illegible], purporting to be issued by Herschel V. Johnson & Co., [illegible] to undertake the collection, through the Court of Claims or Congress, of the tax on cotton, whether heretofore paid or [illegible] to be paid. One-half of the proceeds is to be retained by the collectors for "expenses," [illegible] lobby fees, and for their services; the other half to be returned to the party paying the tax. Of course the undertaking relies on the supposed ability of Herschel V. Johnson & Co., through Democratic votes, to get their hands into the public treasury. This accomplished they [illegible] as easily collect the cotton tax at the halves as anything else. But the grapes hang too high. Nevertheless, it is interesting to know in advance the use which leading Democrats would make of Congress, Cabinet officers, and the Court of Claims, if they get the control of them. The cotton tax is but one excuse among many that would exist for [illegible] their arms up to the elbows in the National Treasury. No wonder Mr. Herschel V. Johnson [illegible] upon us like an avalanche with his four-column arguments for the President's policy and for Democracy generally. He has [illegible] for it, which being issued by the Government, and declared by law to be a legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, are worth at least [illegible] seventy-five cents on the dollar in gold. N. Y. Tribune.

The body of Maximilian, after he was shot, measured six feet three inches.

Grant and the Party [illegible]

Gen. Grant is already virtually nominated for the Presidency. The Republican press in all parts of the country is declaring for him. The Galena Gazette, published at General Grant's home thus speaks:

"He is a soldier of unsurpassed renown and tried in the government of men in the field: no one denies to him a power of the most extraordinary character. In that character is combined no less the civilian than the soldier. He governs easily because he governs reasonably, and the secret lies in this, that men subject to his control, are more than under common men, inclined to govern themselves. This is the perfection of administrative ability, especially in a self-government like ours. This power is never acquired by education, but has its foundation in the temperament. To say that General Grant is a civil soldier is saying that he is not arrogant, nor overbearing, nor tyrannical in his manner or spirit towards other men. His geographical knowledge of the country is unsurpassed. There is scarcely a road or a river, a mountain or a valley of any note that he has not studied. The people of every part of the country he knows, for he has either led representatives of all to victory, or held them at his mercy in defeat. This knowledge of the country and of its people is qualification of no small moment in a Chief Magistrate of a nation like this, at a time when the finest sensibilities of the heart are to be reached in the process of harmonizing the conflicting elements of feeling that have been so diverse, and which have brought to the nation such an amount of accumulated woe. In general practical intelligence, in all things touching the general interests of the country and the well-being of the people no man is his superior. He practices economy the most rigid in public expenditures, on the principle that it is wrong to do otherwise. His administration, in this regard, would lighten the public burdens, a number of millions, in our opinion, that it would be hazardous for us to name. His mind is as quick as a flash to detect wrong, and equally quick in devising a remedy, where one is possible within the bounds of just propriety. With foreign nations, his policy would be that of peace, in every case consistent with public honor. In every law passed by the representatives of the people and of the States, intended to promote or protect the public welfare, he will consider it his sacred duty to acquiesce. In courage to do right he is only equalled by his determined disposition and will that right should be done, and in whatever position he is placed, to the full extent of his power, it will be done.

The Isthmus of Darien.—Among the papers presented before the geographical section of the British Scientific Association, at its recent meeting in Dundee, was one by a Frenchman, De Puydt, who was sent out by the French Government in 1865 to make an exploration of the Isthmus of Darien for the purpose of constructing a ship canal. You remember that an exploration was made before the rebellion of the Atrato river, by the American Government, and that the party under Lieut. Strain suffered terrible hardships. The party under De Puydt, instead of going up the Atrato, took a small stream called the Tenaly, which on some of the maps is put down as one of the mouths of the Atrato. He found no difficulty in going up the banks of this stream through the forests to the Cordeleras, which at the head waters of this little river are completely broken down into a plateau, which is estimated to be one hundred and forty feet above tide water. The plateau or water shed between the Atlantic and Pacific is about five miles in width only. The explorer did not go across to the Pacific, but he states that he had an unobstructed view of the whole country westward, the Plains of Darien reaching all the way to the Pacific. No measurements were taken of distances or heights, and the elevation is only an estimate from the rapidity of of the current of the Tenalty. The Indians were friendly and his party did not suffer from [illegible] or hardship.

It is announced that Assistant Engineer Geo. F. Sawyer, at the Portsmouth Navy-Yard, has been court-martialed on the charge of using disrespectful language toward the President in declaring that he ought to be impeached, and that he has been sentenced to receive a reprimand and to be suspended for one year on half pay, and that the "Old Man of the Sea," Secretary Welles, has approved of the sentence. At the same time it is asserted that other officers, who made the charges against Mr. Sawyer, denounced Congress in the language of Mr. Johnson, as an unconstitutional body, guilty of usurpation and of enacting unjust and oppressive laws. We believe that there is a [illegible] prohibiting [illegible] in the military service from speaking in disrespectful terms of either Congress or the President. If Mr. Sawyer violated this act, it is evident that his accusers did the same, and should be subject to the same penalty. Ind. [illegible], the President has set them the example, and, if the law were enforced, would already have been subjected to discipline for his assaults upon Congress and his attempts to bring that body into contempt and disrepute, and undermine the respect due to its authority as a coordinate branch of the Government.—Chicago Republican.

Delights of a Daily Paper.—The editor of the New Albany Commercial, apologizing for the slimness of his news columns, which he solemnly lays to the failure of the gas, the mail and telegraph, says:

A belief has grown up in daily newspaper offices that eternal beatitude awaits the faithful publisher and printer, when having closed his last form, he passes over the dark waters that roll between time and eternity. The belief is founded on the fact that any editor that works faithfully at his profession in this world sees and feel enough of hell to last him for all eternity. We solemnly subscribe to the doctrine. The great laws of compensation that pervades all nature sustain it. Cheered and soothed with this faith, we plod along, to bear the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, in the certain hope of a final rest in that comfortable clime where slow gas factories, lazy mail agents, extortionate telegraph companies, libel suits, and short-dress women are unknown.

The Pacific Rolling Mill.—The work on the great enterprise is being pushed forward with great rapidity. The necessary excavations are nearly complete. The greater portion of the machinery is on the ground; it consists of shears, housings, rolling for making flat and round iron of all sizes. One more shipment from the East, which is daily expected, will bring the remainder of the machinery, including a machine for making railroad iron. The building will, in a short time, be so far completed as to admit the removal of the machine, now at the Pacific forge, to this place. Mr. Brunner, the Superintendent of the works, says the hight of his ambition is to have a bar of iron made at the mill on the 1st day of January, and that he feels pretty confident that he will succeed.—S. F. Call.

Hon. Robert Savage, Democratic Senator of the Nineteenth Ohio District, has recently declared his adhesion to the Republican party, giving as a reason that what he saw and heard during a recent tour of the South convinced him of the necessity of standing by Congress in its plan of reconstruction.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all [illegible] with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal [illegible] had on my wife. She had been [illegible] with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, to her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal [illegible]; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was [illegible] hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it [illegible] astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if you [illegible] use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

Dear Dr. Henley—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose. Th[illegible] the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and finding that it relieved me considerably I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten p[illegible] within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

Dear Dr. Henley—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a [illegible] and Godsend to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it [illegible] of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER, Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly, W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

Dear Dr. Henley—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I remain yours, truly, J. H. MORRIL.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT!

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

Will Cure All Pains in a Few Minutes!

Read the Certificates:

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

Portland, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

VINCENT McCULLOUGH,

Corner of Fifth and College streets.

Tumor Removed!

Portland, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I. MITCHELL.

Portland, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me. I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them. Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] treated

Horrible Disease

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus [illegible] into the system! Look at their pallid, wasted and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let [illegible], guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, [illegible] that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the [illegible] of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible], the consequences of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] degree, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: [illegible], darkness before the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible], hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If [illegible] be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treatment [illegible] which never fails of [illegible] a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who [illegible] to marry, who are suffering under any of these dreadful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Patients at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 282.

Consultations FREE.
